5. LENGTH OF OBSERVATION Not Reported	11. BRIEF SUMMARY AND ANALYSIS  Bright white object trailing a T-6 A/C. Flight was above and behind the A/C in a direction from East to West. Size was estimated to be about 1/4 the size of the tail of the A/C. After following the A/C to the base leg the object turned to the NW and disappeared rapidly. Shaped like a small parachute. No noise trail or exhaust.  Object trailing the A/C. Small, white. As A/C turned the object headed NW from a Westerly course. This turn may be an illusion. Duration not reported. Disappearance was rapid after the object reportedly turned. Possible that debris from the a/c was the cause of the sighting.

Weatherman Spots a Saucer High Over Iowa

By the United Press.

SIOUX CITY, Iowa, March 31.—Fourteen Iowans today joined the swelling ranks of the I've-seen-a-flying-saucer club.

Leo Jeske, employee of the U.S. Weather Bureau, said he saw a strange object yesterday and at first thought it was a weather balloon.

"Then I decided it wasn't," he said.

At 10,000 Feet.

Mr. Jeske said the object remained stationary at an altitude of 10,000 to 12,000 feet for a while, then flashed out of sight.

National Guardsmen at the Sioux City air base said they saw a white, round "something" apparently following an airplane.

Leroy Wagner said "the disc seemed to hover about 300 feet above the plane," but air base officials were unable to contact the plane by radio to find out if the pilot saw the object.

'Shiny, Pencil-Shaped.'

Other persons who saw "it" described it as a "shiny, pencil-shaped" aircraft which swung back and forth over Sioux City.

U.S. Air Force officials repeatedly have denied any knowledge of the saucers.

JOSEPH G. MAHAR
Lt Colonel, USAF
Chief, Intelligence Division

g. At 1210M on 30 March 1950, 1st Sgt LeRoy A. Wagner and Corporal Richard W. Kjos, observed a bright, white object trailing a T-6 aircraft in the immediate vicinity of Sioux City Municipal Airport, Iowa. The object was flying above and behind the aircraft in the direction of east to west, just north of the field. It appeared to be about one fourth the size of the tail of the airplane. After following the T-6 to the base leg, the object turned to the northwest and moved out of sight rapidly. The observers heard no noise above that of the T-6 nor was there any visible exhaust from the object. No sketches or photographs of the object are available, but both said that the object had the appearance of a parachute. No estimate of speed, maneuverability or altitude was reported. 1st Sgt Wagner and Corporal Kjos are stationed with the 174th Fighter Squadron, Sioux City Municipal Airport, Sioux City, Iowa.

Weather at time of sighting was not reported.
