10. BRIEF SUMMARY OF SIGHTING One (1), round, red object, the size of a quarter at arms length, appeared to drop, then ascend and head west.			11. COMMENTS The observer possibly saw jet aircraft. The fact that the observer is located in a locale of heavy aircraft activity and that the description could fit that of jet exhaust, leads this hqs to the above opinion. A check with COC Weather indicates that they were no known balloons in the area at the time of sighting.
