STRANGE LIGHTS AND BLASTS IN RIVERDALE, NEW JERSEY

Mysterious explosions and multi-colored lights have been seen in the Riverdale sky recently. The Borough Council is particularly interested in the unexplained blasts, tremors, or explosions. They have been reported by residents for the past three weeks. No damage has been reported yet.

Shock recording machines are presently being set up to determine factors about the tremors. This was recommended by the Mayor, because all except one insignificant company haven't blasted in the questioned time.

For several nights residents have been calling police reporting seeing strange moving lights in the sky. However, the many different viewers differ on what they say they see. Some say the lights are red, some blue, some orange, and others multi-colored. (FSRO)
