Dear Mr. Duplantier,

Our new program at the Canadian UFO Research Association began some months ago and will be officially rolling by January 1st, 1972.

We have three aims. 1. Membership organization, which is just something to fill in, in a sense of speaking. 2. Investigations group, whereas we are trying to get members situated equally in each province and state. All reports are investigated, sent in and analyzed. 3. A research group, where each member besides being a member of 1 and 2, have selected a topic of study. Such topics are: MIBs, UFO occupants, abductions, etc. Possibly you could aid by placing an article in your next issue about our group.

Hi Gene:

I have recently acquired a complete set of the Dick Miller Space Tapes. Are you ready for a strange incident? I acquired these tapes one evening and on the 4th of October, I listened to the 3rd reel. I left it on my tape deck. The next morning I came out of my bedroom to find about 200 feet of that particular tape lying, ripped apart, on my floor. At first I thought my two-year old daughter and her puppy, Lazy, had done the deed, for which they were severely punished. However, upon closer scrutiny, I found the tape was "cut" or sectioned at horizontal angles. Perhaps there was something there which may have rung a bell, I do not know now. Perhaps the work of higher entities? I am not a weirdo but then I discount nothing either. There are many aspects of UFOlogy which not only border on, but are integral parts of metaphysics, at least this has been my findings. I should very much like to meet or correspond with others and exchange ideas in order to develop a foundation to start from.

Gene Duplantier:

Here are some details I rounded up on the mysterious hole discovered in Coleraine.

Rumor circulated that the hole had been made by some men who had orders to get rid of some boxes of dynamite. Some people say they heard the explosion, others didn't.

Researchers at Laval University made tests on rock samples for residues of dynamite, but found none whatsoever.

Dynamite is dangerous to all life for a year. A few weeks after the hole was discovered, fish were put in the hole by someone as a practical joke. Weeks after, the fish were still alive.

After the hole was discovered, farmers complained about military jets circling that area at low altitudes. It was said that military exercises took place the following weeks in the area. Don't you think the answer is strange since it was the first time military exercises took place over this area and that people complained?

When first visited, no residues of dynamite boxes were found at or near the hole, but the next few days after, someone had torn up dynamite boxes and thrown the pieces all over the place. Why?

We rejected the hole as being made by a meteor, as no melted rock was found in that area.

After many months of research on the hole, we drove there one day to find that someone had put a dead animal in it. Why? Is it another practical joke?

Dear Mr. Duplantier:

I've just finished reading edition 61 of SS&S magazine and I must compliment you on its production - jam-packed with news as usual, and the article on the Eastern UFO Symposium was a beauty!

Mr. Duplantier:

This is the latest report from our area. Last Thursday, July 22, a UFO was seen about 11:30 p.m. by a witness. The UFO was in the southwest, was a rounded form, brighter than a star. The color was orange and was distinguished easily from the other stars.

About 24 hours later, a blackout occurred in several regions of our province, mostly Montreal. Later in the evening, I watched the news on TV and they said that the cause of the blackout was located in the Drummondville area, that is where the UFO appeared a day before. Could there be a relationship between these two events?

Editor's notes

Not too much happened in the past three months to make the headlines with but one exception. People got in a flap when unidentified lights were seen on a number of nights at Red Deer, Alberta. There were many theories as to what they were but nothing definite resulted from investigations. This happened in August.

Your editor finds the "lights-in-the-sky" type of report quite boring when no real details are observed. So, in this issue we get away from this aspect and give you something a little different in the way of stories never before made public and an interview with Earl Neff. We hope you'll like the more personal approach and intend printing more of this nature in the future.

Every so often something comes along to give a UFO buff a reason for being when things go slow. Such a thing is Brad Steiger's NOTEBOOK (see our back page). The first issue details a most interesting UFO story which happened in Hawaii involving a hospital patient there. This NOTEBOOK (four pages every month) is FREE and you are under no obligation to buy anything. Some of you may not like cutting up your SS&S to mail away the coupon, so write your name and address on a separate sheet of paper and please mention that you read the offer in this magazine. We hope to inform you of future news from Other Dimensions regularly.

UFOzine editors are once again reprinting and translating articles from SS&S into their own languages because of their worth to their own readers. More persons are asking to be selling representatives than ever before. We welcome Peter Powell of Australia in this capacity and wish to thank everyone for their support of our efforts.

The May 10, 1971 Daily Telegraph told this surprising story: "Somewhat unusual advice is tendered to members of France's Gendarmerie Nationale in its magazine. An article urges gendarmes to keep a sharp eye open for evidence of landings by flying saucers or other engines from outer space. Should they find traces of such landings they should make careful notes of the circumstances, and secure any debris left behind. They should also examine insects in the vicinity for signs of anomalies and measure the degree of radioactivity present. Wherever possible photographs should be taken. Infrared photographs would be particularly valuable. One may suspect that these recommendations are a hoax perpetrated on the poor gendarmes by a colleague with a taste for practical jokes. But there is nothing (to indicate this) in the magazine."

The following comes from F. and P. Dickson, editors of a New Zealand Ufozine:

After a lapse of nearly 11 years Mr. X has had his third visit from the two Space Friends. Naturally he was pleased to see them again after such a long time but was afraid of their news.

Their first personal visit to him was on Sept. 19, 1960 and the 2nd on Oct. 8, 1960. During the ensuing years they have kept contact with him and us through notes being either left in his letter box or under the door. Communicating in this manner may seem strange to some, but has proved to be more accurate in conveying the message, whereas by word of mouth important points can be forgotten, confused, colored by retelling or interpretation and generally unwittingly distorted.

One of the notes mentioned that if they had anything of an urgent nature they would contact him personally.

This meeting took place last evening of July 29, 1971 at approx. 7:30 p.m. They were asked in but politely declined saying they would be contacted again in a few days time. This was the first time Mrs X has met them. Both men were dressed in neat suits, no hats, but one point did catch the X's eyes and this was their footwear - their shoes were an unusual indistinguishable shade somewhere between red and gray in color with a metal clasp up the centre. We were of course informed about the visit and awaited developments. Meanwhile we received news that sightings of UFOs had been seen in Alexandra, Otago and Oamaru all taking place on the 27, 28 & 29th of July. Several witnesses told of a large golden globe shining very brightly in the sky. It moved slowly and silently, later appearing to land in the distant foothills.

This morning at 9:50 a.m. Mr. X got his mail and a folded note from the letter box had this to say:

"This is bad news, but we will be compelled to abandon all our attempts to help earthlings to a better way of life. Even our Brothers are not safe amongst you.

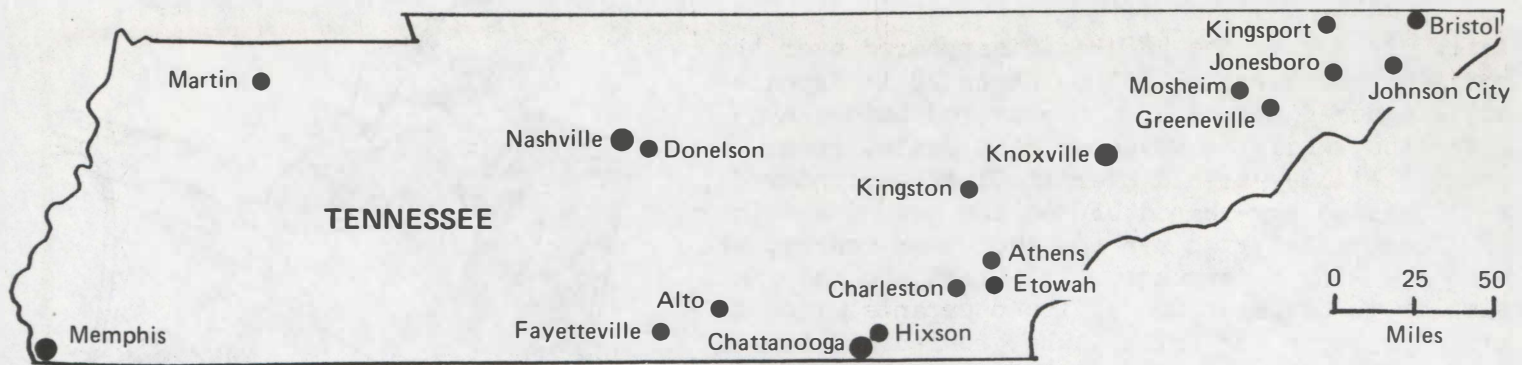

One of our most trusted and loved Brothers has been murdered by earthlings while doing his duties. We have been recalled to our own Sphere, and given instructions to break-off all contacts in the meantime. All the good we have done has been set back to nothing in almost every case.

No sooner that we put something right, than it is immediately put to naught by vested interests. We can almost smell the stench of your society, your political jostlings for high places, your corrupt monetary system, your badness morally.

Political untruths flow with the greatest of ease from the tongues of rulers throughout your world, and even your League of Nations is powerless to prevent iniquity in your world. It is powerless because it is composed of these very same elements of which we speak. We saw and spoke with you a few nights ago, yet there may still be the chance that we shall have need of your kind help, but how long it will be, we cannot even guess at the moment. And now you can understand why we made this last personal vigil to you and this last time so that your wife could be present. We shall watch over you. Your two friends."

Oct. 29 was a good radio night. Alan Douglas (WKYC, Cleveland) interviewed a psychic researcher on ghosts. Larry Glick, (WBZ, Boston) had Ray Fowler of NICAP on UFOs. Long John Nebel (WNBC, New York) undertook to contact the spirit of Harry Houdini with two trance mediums. It was a three day affair and coincided with the Halloween Eve weekend celebrations.

TENNESSEE - A quarter-century of UFOs

George D. Fawcett, a Greeneville, Tennessee private civilian UFO researcher and investigator who has monitored global UFO sightings for the past 25 years and after studying a sampling of over 40 UFO encounters reported over the past 24 years from Tennessee, has arrived at the following conclusions:

Tennessee's UFO problem consists of the same patterns and characteristics reported globally during the same period of time.

Fawcett reports that Tennessee UFO activities include such aspects as landings and ground markings, photographs, plane and auto chases, occupant reports, animal reactions, sounds and smells attributed to UFOs, hovering and revolving objects, missing cattle, physiological effects upon eyewitnesses, low-level flights, power failures, UFO repetitions, color changes due to maneuvers, multiple eyewitnesses, structural details such as portholes, windows, protrusions, reappearances of UFOs in certain areas, angel hair falls, electro-magnetic interferences with motors and lights, radar trackings and a large number of other UFO correlations.

Many of the June-July, 1947 sightings were reported from KNOXVILLE and varied from a "long cylinder" seen at night by C.E. Brehm, a University of Knoxville professor, who stated it "moved at terrific speed, leaving in its wake at low altitude a shower of sparks" to a "big round streamlined silver-like UFO" reported at 5:30 p.m. by produce dealer Bill Anderson. Anderson described the daytime UFO to be as big as a pickup truck and said it streaked over the Sharp's Ridge area.

Other 1947 reports came from Memphis, Chattanooga and Hixon in early July. These UFOs reported by a Memphis housewife, a young student and a group of friends in the other two locations told of round objects that circled, made whooshing sounds, appeared to be mirror-like, bright and shiny and flew in formations overhead, before disappearing towards the NE sky, leaving behind a string of startled eyewitnesses.

In November, 1953, Paul Norman, a trained hydro-electric and steam-electric power personnel and his 10 year old son saw a bright bluish white UFO moving slowly over the Center Hill powerhouse and dam on the Caney Fork River in Donelson at 7 p.m. The UFO pulsated in brightness at intervals of about second, as it moved slowly SE, hovering twice. After four minutes the UFO suddenly sped away.

At 7:10 p.m. on October 8, 1957, many residents, including newsman James Myers saw a "V-shaped UFO" through binoculars at Roane. The 10-power binoculars revealed a red-nosed, V-shaped UFO with a greenish and bluish-whitish tail. By 8 p.m. the UFO had disappeared over the horizon. Earlier in 1957 on March 23 at Fayetteville a domed topped UFO maneuvered before eyewitnesses, while on November 6 at Dante, (near Knoxville) 12-year-old Everett Clark encountered an elongated egg-shaped UFO on the ground and four UFO "occupants", two men and two women nearby, who were speaking a language which Clark thought was similar to German. One of the occupants tried to grab the boy's dog Frisky, who growled and backed away. The occupants then re-entered their UFO. They looked like "they were walking through glass" and the UFO took off straight up. Everett's parents, returning from their work at a Knoxville knitting mill, found him hysterical. Police, a reporter and a photographer from the Knoxville News-Sentinel arrived and found an elliptical imprint, about five feet wide and 24 feet long, "as though a big cigar-shaped frame had been put down on the grass." Those at the scene at the time did not regard his as a hoaxer.

1960 was going to prove to be another good UFO year for Tennessee. It started on July 22 when 13-year-old Shirley Sisk reported seeing a UFO at 10 p.m. which she said looked larger than a car and was shaped like two pie plates turned together. It hung motionless "about 150 feet" above the ground. The incident occurred near Martin, Tenn. The UFO had a small rudder-like attachment or protrusion on one side. Big oily circles with blackish substance were found in at least four spots in and around Memphis and Martin, following the UFO appearances in these areas. No explanations for them have been found. On December 16 at Chattanooga, a moonwatch team, while looking for Echo 1 saw another object, which was much lower and not in the right direction. Other witnesses said it resembled a "ball of fire".

On May 27, 1961 at Nashville a bright triangular UFO was seen over a wide area from 5 p.m. to sunset. Jets from the Memphis Naval Air Station were scrambled, but could not reach the altitude of the UFO estimated at 60,000 feet. The Strategic Air Command in Colorado Springs, said no aircraft or balloons were known to be in the area. A photograph was taken by a member of the Nashville Tennessean staff.

In July, 1964 Kathie M. Riney and her mother and father watched a round, lighted UFO hovering above the top of a barn on the H.F. Ramsey farm, located 13 miles north of Greeneville on the Kingsport Hwy. at 11 p.m. The light re-reflected on the top of a red barn and after five minutes the object took off straight up and vanished. As it left the area treetops swayed back and forth. The next morning upon closer investigation threads of "angel hair" like substance were found covering small trees and bushes. The strands were about one and a half feet long and disappeared when touched by the hands of the eyewitness. A light pole was down and the power was off during the sighting. The next day a bull calf was found missing in the same location of the "angel hair" fall. Police investigated, but no explanation was found for the experience.

1966 brought a renewed crop of UFO sightings from six Tennessee towns and cities. On March 28 at Fayetteville, a businessman driving his car suddenly encountered a large lighted

UFO, about four feet above the road on a hilltop. The UFO flew off, as the car engine and headlights died. The light bulbs had to be replaced. The UFO was oval, about 23 feet long, dark gray, and showed about 30 lights along its periphery. The sighting was investigated by the Air Force, but left unexplained. Another March report came from Greeneville when a UFO about the size of a Cessna airplane and cigar-shaped was reported at 10:30 a.m. by Mrs. Goldene Fillers Burgner. The location: 10 miles south of Greeneville on the Old Asheville Hwy. The solid white object appeared for 25 seconds and then rapidly disappeared. On April 5 at Alto two civilian men stopped to watch an object hovering above a swamp, tried to follow it, but it flew away. They observed that animals (cows, dogs, horses) were restless in all the areas that the object crossed. A photographic reconstruction by the U.S. Air Force showed an oval object, over 90 feet long, flying at an 18 foot altitude, between a high tension line and a row of trees. During the period between October 7 and October 12, Jonesboro, the oldest town in Tennessee and nearby Johnson City were plagued by UFO sightings. On October 7 at 8 p.m. a woman reported eight egg-shaped UFOs moving in formation overhead at Johnson City. On Oct. 11, in Jonesboro, Maxie J. Fox, a student at East Tennessee State reported two UFOs, one of which appeared to "shoot out a straight beam of light" toward a plane. His mother, Mrs. Burnette S. Fox, and neighbors, at approx. 7:10 p.m. saw a cigar-shaped object "about four times as long as a star". After watching the UFO for two minutes, the Fox family drove to the home of Mrs. Melba Jones and the group watched two objects with a bulge on top which changed colors from white to red to green. The Tri-Cities Airport was notified, rerouted three planes coming into the airport into the area of the reported UFOs. The pilots reported "meteor-like" objects in the vicinity. Over 50 silvery-white discs with domes on top were seen by eyewitnesses in Jonesboro and Johnson City in broad daylight the next day, October 12 at noon. As the objects maneuvered overhead they discharged "some substance in sheets" that broke into strands. It was sticky, adhered to everything, and burned Mrs. Fox on one finger. All the witnesses became nauseated, and felt itching sensations, and everyone who entered their backyard during the period till the following Saturday (when it rained) also felt this itching. Mrs. Fox said her dog would not leave the house and her cows also refused to go into the field where the substance had fallen, until the rains came and drenched the area. One eyewitness, a housewife had blisters on her face, after she ran to grab some of the falling substance that dropped on nearby trees, telephone poles and bushes. The substance, investigated by Chas. Armstrong, a reporter for the Johnson City Press Chronicle the next day, was "hot to touch" and had to be dropped when picked up, even though the weather was cold. "One of the UFOs came down low and followed the transmission line that runs behind the house. It was so low that it went behind the trees in the distance and was still visible behind them," Mrs. Fox said. Two Tennessee State University professors, Larry Miller and D.G. Nicholson watched a "doughnut-shaped UFO" through a telescope and said it had a hole in its center and a small, but easily noticeable slit in the ring of the body. Other witnesses reported plane chases and one woman reported UFOs the night of the Johnson City power failure. One Federal

"He wants to know if we'd like a fourth for bridge?"

Aviation Agency official registered the "angel hair" on a geiger counter. On November 3, three city policemen and a U of T professor, Fred Fields, were among many who saw a UFO on this night. It was described as "very huge, round, red and orange. It glowed and stopped and hovered in midair." Fields was with three students and a University Traffic Officer when the UFO appeared above Knoxville.

Perhaps one of the best Tennessee "radar trackings" occurred 16 years before near Memphis on July 11, 1950. Pilots R.E. Moore and J.W. Martin, from Millington Naval Air Station near Memphis were flying slow training planes about 10 miles away. On their left, a UFO shaped object with a dome on top, "like a WWI helmet seen from the side, or a shiny shallow bowl turned upside down," was seen by the veteran pilots. Moore described it as "about 24-25 feet across and about seven feet high." They estimated it flew at 200 miles per hr. They could not keep up with its speed. The chase lasted for about three minutes. With Moore was Electronics Technician G.D. Wehner, operating the radar equipment. Wehner said, "I caught it on the radarscope, it was helmet shaped." "This is one of few cases on record in which a definite shape was seen with a radar confirmation.

A disc-shaped object with a dome on top and three portholes and a "prism" on the bottom which gave off bright rays of light, was seen by many in Shenandoah Heights, Tenn., on the 10th of October at about 10:15 p.m. in the year 1967.

1968 was the year that Kingsport came under the "watchful eye" of the UFO visitations. Sightings were rampant in this area, as well as at least six other cities and towns in the Volunteer State. UFOs were reported by McMinn County police officers on Feb. 25, while on March 3, McMinn County Deputy Sheriff Parrott and another, Deputy Sheriff Wallace Waggle, saw a UFO "move in three directions at different times" over Charleston. It was also seen in Roan and Rhea counties. On March 25 residents in Knoxville reported they saw "something hover over the city". September 10 a UFO that "flashed, glittered and changed colors" was reported by residents at Kingsport. Sept. 11 brought more "unknown sightings" from Kingsport. Another sighting occurred on the evening of Sept. 27, when female students at the Lausanne School in Memphis saw an oval-shaped UFO that would "appear and disappear" at different times. "It had red and green lights on top," said Carrie Wimberly. "Near the top were large windows. On the bottom half, white lights were revolving." On November 26 at Athens, Scott Richards, newsman for radio station WENR in Englewood interviewing Larry and Craig Green about previous sightings several nights before, was startled when Larry shouted from outside his home "It's back!" Richards and the boys watched the UFOs, first two, then one, move back and forth across the horizon and then settle to one spot on a hill-top nearby. On Nov. 28, Kingsport citizens reported a "bowl-shaped" object, similar to one spotted in nearby Etowah three times in one week. The bright white UFO moved across the sky and hovered over the Holston Army Ammunition plant. It took 20 minutes to traverse over the town. "It was bowl-shaped and appeared to be rolling on its edge" many witnesses reported, including the Athens Civil Defense Director Carl Sturgill, who watched it through binoculars. It moved back and forth and up and down and was a brilliant object.

In October, 1969, Don Craft of Greeneville was looking toward the Viking Mountain through his telescope (high-powered) and moved his scope toward the northeast where he saw a red, round object, which at first he thought was Mars. Suddenly the object moved from one point in the sky to another and then hovered. While watching the UFO through his telescope, Craft saw another object drop from the bottom of the larger object. It was white in color. Later both objects moved away until they could be seen no more in the vicinity of the Old Tusculum Airport just off the Erwin Highway.

1970 brought the UFOs back in large numbers again with Greeneville receiving more than its fair share of reports. In Feb., 1970, on Rte. 2 in Mosheim, Mrs. Patricia Long, a housewife, along with her 14-year-old daughter, Paula, saw an unusual light. Between 6:45 to 7:10 a.m., the UFO seen just before daybreak with a faint sunrise in the background resembled two inverted saucers put together with the center rim spinning. The UFO first appeared at ground level behind a row of trees and was watched for a total of two or three minutes by Mrs. Long and her daughter. Mrs. Long said she felt "she was watching a science-fiction movie on TV, only that this one was framed in the large picture window of her home." The glittering UFO rose into the sky and then disappeared from the area.

On March 11, 1970, Miss Pajan Cox and Miss Charnell Garant, both of Rte. 3, Greeneville, reported a "reddish-orange UFO" the Saturday before Easter between 9 and 10 p.m. They were badly frightened by the object, which they watched for three minutes. The UFO, outlined with a color halo, was surrounded by a darker mass on the inside. The UFO was round in shape and moved away from the area in the night sky. During the same year Ted Pobst of Bristol with two of his friends observed a bright yellow UFO with a long fan-like tail in the sky overhead. It was similar in appearance to the one photographed by U.S. astronaut Col. James McDivitt above Hawaii in 1965. In 1970 (date unknown) John D. Hatch, 10, and his mother were driving to Kingsport where his mother is employed in the hospital. They both reside in Bristol. On the trip, when they were about halfway to Kingsport they saw a white UFO that followed the telephone wires. When the UFO approached their car it started flying around in a circle until they arrived in Kingsport. The UFO was a fat oval shape and twirled like the blades of a helicopter, when it circled their car. It had a red ring on the inner edge of it, which was seen before the object departed. In 1970 many persons in Greeneville and Greene County reported a strange UFO in the sky between 6 and 6:30 p.m., which moved from south to north. Eyewitnesses described it "with a strange color of gray, green and orange, having a green tint on the bottom." An eyewitness sketch showed the often reported typical domed-topped, disc-shaped UFO often reported worldwide. In June of 1970, a student, Miss Karen Sapp of Mosheim, (outside of Greeneville) reported a cigar-shaped UFO with a dome on top that descended (getting larger all the time) above the Franklin Furniture Company in Greeneville at 3 p.m. in the afternoon. It was silver in color and hovered before the eyewitness for about 12 seconds, but long enough to give a vivid description of it. Next it moved straight back up again retracing its steps and then moved away in the distant eastern sky. The UFO, which Miss Sapp says "no one else believes she saw" was large at its closest approach, before it went back up in the sky again. She estimated that it would have to be at least 12 feet across and was seen in a clear sky, except for a few scattered clouds above the UFO. In the fall of 1970, Gary Graham, 18, of Greeneville had better luck. Graham was able to catch a UFO on film. Graham, whose hobbies are astronomy and photography combined both in obtaining his photograph. Using a 450-power refractor telescope with a 50-power eyepiece and a Yashicamat 124 camera on a 5-foot tripod Graham was taking $\frac{1}{2}$ -second time exposure shots of the moon in late October at 10 p.m., while waiting for the planet Jupiter to rise at 11 p.m. Though Graham himself did not see the object photographed, one of three consecutive $\frac{1}{2}$ -second exposures of the moon through his telescopic camera did record clearly "a cigar-shaped UFO with rounded front and a tapered back which trailed some sort of exhaust" as it was caught on the film, silhouetted against the face of the moon.

On February 1, 1971, two women, driving near Kingston, Tenn., observed a phenomenon in the night sky described as "saucer-like" with flashing lights. Other people saw it too, as independent observers.

George Fawcett agrees with the suggestion that agencies such as NASA and National Science Foundation should participate actively in the task of rapid clarification of the long-standing confusion over the UFO problem, with perhaps the United Nations (UN), to be used as a worldwide 'clearing house' for global reports. The work of independent organizations...should be exploited and incorporated into all future studies.

The mathematical design of the Mount Rainier saucer

by Kenneth Larson

On June 24, 1947, pilot Kenneth Arnold told newsreporters that he had sighted nine silvery discs flying in a straight line, north to south, near Mount Rainier, Washington. One of these saucers, he said, had a different shape than the other saucers. Twenty four years later, the mathematical basis to this saucer seems to have been discovered.

The drawing depicts the circular and mathematical design to the Mount Rainier saucer. This is based on the celebrated golden section design, known to the ancient Greeks. That is, the saucer has 5 to 8 unit proportions, based on the circle, triangle, square and arc. This has been called the Divine Proportion of Mathematics.

The circle H-E-U-C represents the circular plan view of the saucer and other American saucer sightings over the past 74 years and those seen over Canada, Australia, Great Britain, France, etc. This is the view of the saucer from above. This circular saucer is based on the 0 to 8 unit proportions from A (center) to H.

Another saucer design is seen by the football shaped object C-K-J-L-E-N-T-M-C. These have been reported over America, seen by policemen, etc. Then, we have another saucer design within this mathematical pattern, the Phoenix UFO photo taken by William Rhodes on July 7, 1947.

The Great Pyramid square K-L-M-N and the side view triangle P-J-R represent the combined design with the circle-saucer and the golden section. The line A to U is bisected, and the line S-E forms the arc centered on S. Thus, the arc E-L-J-K-C forms the section and mathematical designs.

The small circle at J-5 represents the actual circle seen on the 1947 Mount Rainier model. The basic Mount Rainier saucer can then serve as the model for the other American and Canadian reports. I am of the opinion that the saucers came because of the design to the Great Pyramid and the missing topstone and the eventual revealing of buried records of the past civilizations.

This discovery was made by the author during his research on UFOs in 1970.

Woody Derenberger's 'Lanulosians'

On the evening of Oct. 18, 1971, Woody Derenberger, an Ohio contactee, was the guest on the Alan Douglas show, radio WKYC in Cleveland, Ohio.

A rainy night in southern Ohio in 1966 was the scene for the first contact. A space-man named Indrid Cold and his spacecraft landed on the highway impeding Derenberger's travel which turned out to be the beginning of a series of contacts with the visitors from Lanulos.

WD claims all he says is true and actually happened. We heard the following statements by him and will be classified as such from here on in.

WD says three others have had similar contacts by the Lanulosians. One man lives in the District of Columbia and another lives in West Virginia, we didn't catch where the third person resides as the radio station was wavering in signal strength from strong to weak continually.

Contact can be made with these spacepeople by mental telepathy and WD was taught by them how to do it. They don't give this technique to others because of possible accusations of reading one's mind but only so he can contact them and vice versa.

Johnny Carson, for instance, wouldn't be contacted since he is an entertainer and the telepathy bit is for learning purposes only.

Getting into precognition, mind control and hypnotism came to WD naturally.

He has talked to hundreds of people who have seen flying saucers on the ground and who have talked to the occupants. He believes 95% of them are speaking truthfully.

Douglas feels 95% of people are mistaken as to what they saw and about 5% could have been a true UFO account.

Douglas asked WD about Lanulos. He replied there were many worlds like it. Spacepeople call other worlds by different names than we do.

The astronauts saw artifacts made by human hands and spacecraft sitting on the moon and have photos of this. Asked how he knew this, WD said, "The spacepeople told me so."

Douglas wanted to know what the Lanulosians are doing here. WD said they were studying our way of life, what's wrong with it, how to help, would like to trade in minerals with our planet. They could teach us new forms of metallurgy and how to make Trilon which is the metal the spacecraft are made from. They would establish world trade and are not here to save us. They are not perfect and are also trying to improve their way of life.

They have a similar democratic government and have an Inter-Galactic Council. Inhabitants are advised how to live and are able to spend their lives living on different worlds. They're 1,000 years ahead of us and have had no wars.

They investigated our world in 1947, but others have been doing the same only much earlier, probably in Biblical days.

Atlantis is a fact and is situated off Egypt in the Mediterranean Sea.

They have a Bible but has different names, believe in a God, everyone is God's child. Jesus Christ was of this world (Earth) but they have no record on their world of him being there. They believe their ancestors came from Earth. They have written records of Lanulos going back 10,000 years, written in Lanulosian. WD would need help to translate it and thinks he could get permission from them to do so.

Douglas asked if he had any artifacts. Wd said he had two but they were stolen and has only one other but won't show it as it helps him therapeutically and uses it every day.

One of the artifacts he had was a fossilized red tooth from a Lanulosian animal called a "Stenorachus", a land and water animal. It looked somewhat like our water buffalo and friendly.

WD has had no adverse effects from travelling in space. His last trip in space was 4½ days ago he said, making the date October 13.

WD says that if people accepted his story without question he would say they were crazy. He tells his story to prepare others should this happen to them.

A man from the eastern part of the U.S. was said to be trying to raise $50,000 just to live and will raise havoc with the weather until people believe in flying saucers and spacepeople. WD says this man is not one of the ones who have contacted the Lanulosians because he had asked them and got a negative reply.

Douglas wanted to know whether the government knew of the spacepeople. The reply was 'yes' but they feared panic if the public knew for sure, but would not stop WD from relating his experiences. WD doesn't agree the world would panic, the government fearing a technologically superior race and the 'unknown' would be the cause of the panic.

A lady phoned in to the program saying she doesn't believe the public would panic but that the boys in government would be the ones to panic over their jobs, not the people.

WD told his story to government people at Cape Kennedy and they said he didn't tell them anything they didn't already know, except that Lanulos' name was replaced by the name 'Orlon'.

WD cannot introduce anyone to the spacepeople as they make their own choice.

Lanulosians live to be from 125 to 175 years of age.

The drawings in his book VISITORS FROM LANULOS were drawn by a Cleveland artist and described to him in person by a space person. The cover illustration on the book jacket is not like the original spaceship drawing that was sent to the publisher.

DON'T LAUGH EARTHLING, I MAY BE BESIDE YOU - By Wilf Bennett

Instead of planning costly space probes scientists should be doing their utmost to communicate with the creatures who are already visiting the Earth from other planets, says Stanton T. Friedman, an American nuclear and space expert.

"I am convinced that the Earth is being visited by intelligently-controlled vehicles whose origin is outside the Earth," he told 200 Simon Fraser University students.

Friedman, who spent 14 years in the development of advanced nuclear and space systems for the U.S. government, says there have been enough sightings of saucers and their occupants by technically trained observers, including engineers, astronauts, astronomers, pilots and physicists to convince him they are visiting this planet.

In view of the tremendous increase in world technology in the past 100 years, particularly the spectacular increase in the speed of movement, it shouldn't be difficult to conceive of other "civilizations", possibly created hundreds or millions of years before ours, speeding emissaries to the Earth and back, said Friedman.

"We think of the difficulty of getting to a star and back in one lifetime, but we think in conventional terms. Possibly speed in outer space could be multiplied many times from today's known limit."

Friedman, who gave descriptions and showed pictures of some of the most recently sighted UFOs, said they show a remarkable similarity. "There's nothing on Earth to explain them," he said.

The occupants aren't the little green men with big bug eyes and antennae of science fiction, Friedman said. By the best descriptions they seem to be "humanoid" creatures, but with grey skin, slitted eyes, long arms and legs.

"If they're coming here, why don't they try to establish contact with us?" he was asked.

"Maybe we're somebody's colony," said Friedman. Maybe we're the prize, booby or otherwise, in some intergalactic competition. They may know of some impending catastrophe. They may be from a defeated civilization or a dying star needing a new home.

Friedman says he sees the reluctance of a majority of Earthlings to accept the reality of flying saucers as partly a problem of the human ego, which insists on regarding this planet as the centre of the universe.

INTERVIEW WITH - EARL NEFF

On October 16, 1971, Earl Neff of Cleveland, Ohio, one of the country's outstanding UFO lecturers, arrived at Toronto International Airport enroute to Barrie where he was to give a lecture. We had the pleasure of taping an interview with Mr. Neff and questioning him on some UFOlogical matters we think you'll find of interest.

SS&S: Can you tell us what has become of Major Keyhoe since his retirement from NICAP?

E.N.: I talked to him just recently on the phone and his book was scheduled for August. He said he'd like to bring it out in October but now it probably won't be out until January because January is a good month for publishers. He is still working on it, the delay is probably due to the fact the publishers had other ideas than Keyhoe's and probably they were about his stand. He has conformed to their particular wishes.

SS&S: Major Keyhoe propounded the extra-terrestrial hypothesis as the source of UFOs. Do you think the statement is still valid considering the technological and scientific advances of today?

E.N.: On the 6th of April the Cleveland Ufology Project had its big banquet at Esterhurst and in time for that Major Keyhoe wrote me exactly what he felt about UFOs. He said, "I believe that UFOs are extra-terrestrial probes or observation devices controlled by a more advanced civilization carrying out a long survey of our world for some important reason which has not yet been determined."

SS&S: Do you feel the same way?

E.N.: Yes, definitely.

SS&S: There is an upsurge of thought among scientists and investigators that UFOs are a parapsychical-psyche manifestation rather than from other planets. How do you view this? Are the two compatible to your way of thinking?

E.N.: No they're not. In fact I don't discount that there are coronas and visual sightings that are very definitely of a very materialistic nature and that there are others that are mystical and the type that Jung and Freud referred to, but I frankly feel that when you take a 22-calibre rifle, aim at one of these, as has been done on numerous occasions, and you hear it go ping when it hits, you're not hitting an illusion or a mystical thing.

SS&S: So probably they could have not just one origin but two or more.

E.N.: Yes, that is quite possible, and I think quite frequently people had a visual experience and others with all sincerity had something of a more psychical nature... I'm not belittling that angle of it, but I do not say, like Phillip Klass, that these are all of a corona, etc., etc. type.

SS&S: Do you feel that the United Nations, if given the go-ahead, could reasonably solve the UFO mystery?

E.N.: Well, if the United Nations did the same with us that they've done with most of the others I'm afraid it would be longer than my life time.

SS&S: According to researchers, UFOs seem to have been here since time immemorial. If this is so, do you personally think the mystery will be solved by the end of the century?

E.N.: Well, I'm not a Jeane Dixon...I know her very well and I think greatly of her... she said to me on a program one night, that by the year 2000, we would take them for granted. We would look at the sky and look at them as we look at aeroplanes today. They would be so numerous we would no longer bother to get excited.

SS&S: Accepting the proposition that the mystery is solved, what developments can you see in store for us as inhabitants of Earth? Would the results be beneficial or repugnant to us?

E.N.: Frankly I'm very worried. I don't try to express this thought too generally because if I do too many people go home and have to take an Exedrin tablet. Major Colman VonKeviczky, whose group appointed me their American representative, when questioned on something of this kind feels that this is something we should be very much concerned about, and this is the reason we're trying to get Canada, and all the nations interested and involved in the UN, to consider this very seriously because we should not have a shoot-down order. We should look at them in a friendly way which we are not doing at the present time.

The Merint Report, which took me from six to eight months to obtain, is the poster that is on all the U.S. naval vessels and tells what to do in case there is a warship other than ours, within our territory, an aeroplane, a rocket or a submarine other than ours...or a UFO. We take take this very seriously and yet we have this ridiculous shoot-down order. Even Albert Einstein pleaded with Harry Truman when he was President, not to let our planes shoot at them when 52 monitor-type scanning devices were over Washington, D.C. One was hit. Admiral Herbert B. Knowles was with your own Canadian Wilbert Smith in Washington at the time. This piece of metal, this chunk, fell. This is something SS&S: Were you disappointed in the Apollo astronauts not finding life on the moon or any evidence of alien visitations?

E.N.: I was contacted by a television personality immediately following Apollo 15 and was asked if I'd learned anything further on this particular flight and I said no. He said don't you feel they're highly indoctrinated the same as the Air Force boys are and I said yes, I feel that. In yesterday's news (Oct.15) a big statement was made for the first time publicly that in March of last year the moon had a big geyser erupt. That proves that under the surface of the moon there is water, something that never before has been known. I wouldn't be surprised that Mr. Kaltenborn was censored off the air, at least that is what we think happened, because he was stopped in the middle of a sentence when he said he had something very important to say, relative to the flight before the last.

SS&S: A proposed future Apollo moonshot would be to the crater Gassendi. Do you think the so-called "city street layouts" in the crater were made by intelligent beings or is it mere fantasy on the part of some UFO buffs?

- E.N.: I'm inclined to think it's fantasy. One night I had George Van Tassel on the air with me from his home at Giant Rock. I said George, you claim that you have a photograph of the city on the moon, would you like to tell us more about it? He said, "Yes, I got that photograph." When we asked him to send us a copy of the print he said, "Now I really wouldn't know exactly where it is." Well now, if I was asked if I had a piece of UFO metal, I wouldn't say yes I have a piece of UFO metal, it's in my garage, and I've got so much metal out there I wouldn't know where it is. I think I would prize this very highly. And so when we checked this thing out, I think it was more imagination than anything else. He did have something and he showed it on his Proceedings but when we checked with Mt. Palomar, Palomar was very, very ignorant about it.
- SS&S: The U.S. funding of space exploration has been slowed down considerably. Do you think this will have any effect on our meeting aliens or spacecraft?
- E.N.: Frank Edwards said that within the next five years (just before his death - June 23, 1967) we will have contact with an actual spacecraft and person...and that will be by one of our astronauts. Edwards died the day before the 20th anniversary of Kenneth Arnold's sighting. I certainly feel that every time we go out there in space they are highly concerned...and I made public for the first time anywhere in the country that when our experimental shot took place years ago at Cape Kennedy the object leaving the pad was followed by four UFOs, two above it, one below it and one behind it. They followed the capsule in that order for one complete orbit of the Earth...and as suddenly as they arrived they disappeared. This apparently meant that their mission was accomplished...what it was I don't know. But they are concerned with what we are doing, unquestionably so. One of the slides I have, given to me by Leonard Stringfield, shows an actual UFO (a controversial one) just on the outside edge of the smoke-ball of an experimental hydrogen bomb.
- SS&S: You were the first to interview Woody Derenberger on the air. Can you tell us briefly any latest developments in his contacts with Indrid Cold or others of like nature?
- E.N.: Monday night, Oct. 18th, on the Alan Douglas show he will tell all his latest stories. He says he's not crazy, he really had an experience. I had not bought the story, hook, line and sinker. I feel that he has elaborated much too much. He may have had an original experience and I'm not saying he didn't, because I wasn't there. I have interviewed him at length, and have had him on two shows. 50% of his story checks out.
- SS&S: People are still questioning the whereabouts of George Hunt Williamson. Do you know what happened to him?
- E.N.: I really couldn't say. Someone said that he was in Europe, another said in South America and still another said he was in this country (U.S.A.). But I do believe that he is very much alive.
- SS&S: In the book "Interrupted Journey" by John Fuller, when Betty Hill was under hypnosis, she mentioned a map relating to where hercaptors came from. Didn't you find out something interesting about that?
- E.N.: John Fuller may have known the following but if he did he left it out of his book. I don't believe he did, because I can't imagine an author as fine as he, not putting this in. When Betty was regressed by Dr. Simon, she was telling how she had seen a map which was relative to the trade routes, the places where the people were going most frequently (the extra-terrestrials) and those routes that were seldom used, etc. Now what he didn't say was, what seems of foremost importance to me, that this map was not a map on a wall, it was not on a piece of paper, it was not on a two-dimensional ground, this was a three-dimensional map. Apparently it's like when we take a laser beam. Down in Akron, Ohio, just a number of months ago, there was a very beautiful exhibit there. I didn't see it, but it was described to me. It was all about laser beams...you can really think you're seeing something in three dimensions and you can walk right through the blamed thing. This apparently was exactly the type of map she saw. □

Got any exciting personal stories relating to things UFological? Tell us about them and we'll try to get them into the pages of SS&S. Or do you know someone who had something strange happen to him. Or her? Get them to tell us about it. How about it? G.D.

Midwestern Monsters and Humanoids, Summer, 1971

By BRAD STEIGER

The summer began with a rather startling report from a nurse who is employed at one of the large hospitals in Iowa City, Iowa. According to the woman, who is in her early fifties, she was driving to work one morning about dawn when she saw what appeared to be a cage suspended by a line leading into the sky.

As she drew nearer to the object, she found that she could see quite distinctly the figure of a man dressed in a shining, form-fitting, one-piece suit. The man appeared to be gazing intently at the earth below him, although the woman emphasized that he was too high for here to make out his features.

This particular witness had never had any interest in the paranormal or in UFOlogy, and she stated that she had, in fact, ridiculed the subject. Now, however, as a percipient, she excitedly told of her sighting to both the hospital staff and certain of the patients. A frank woman who speaks her mind regardless of Establishment dictates, the witness soon told her son-in-law, a member of the Iowa City Police force, about her sighting. It was in such a manner that the incident was repeated in confidence to one of my correspondents, who followed through with an immediate investigation.

My correspondent was able to learn that a newspaper delivery boy had also sighted the UFO-naut dangling from the sky at about the same time. Further pursuit of the matter produced a laundry delivery man who had also glimpsed the stranger in the sky.

There was a consensus among the percipients that the Being inside the dangling object was thick-chested. His arms and legs were also proportionately thicker than that of conventional homo sapiens.

No one saw what the Being's face looked like, but they seemed to agree that it constituted a darker area in contrast to his shiny suit.

The Being was in a cage-like apparatus, enclosed with what appeared to be bars running vertically. The cage itself appeared to be more egg-shaped than round.

The Being did move inside. The woman observer had the definite feeling that the Being was looking down at her.

Through a contact on the police force it was learned that a few other formal reports of a UFO had been made on that morning and that extensive efforts were made to identify precisely what the percipients had seen. Checks were made with local airports in regard to any helicopters that might have been in the area. Pre-dawn flyers were suggested as possible culprits. All leads drew a blank.

The policeman son-in-law of the nurse admitted unofficially to my correspondent that he at first had believed that he could determine the identity of the UFO-naut and the dangling cage through routine police investigation. He confessed, however, that he could not solve the mystery and is now prepared to admit that just maybe his mother-in-law truly sighted a UFO.

● Ever since I can remember, sections of Iowa have been stalked by mysterious cat-like creatures. The beasts are seen by numerous witnesses, leave footprints, droppings, slaughtered domestic animals--but never are they ever captured or killed. The conservation boys usually come up with some theory of a mountain lion migrating from Montana or somewhere in search of more fruitful hunting grounds, and the general public is pacified with such an explanation. Well, it happened again this summer. Something big and yellow that leaped tall fences with a single bound and devoured half a hog with a single snap of its jaws ranged a good share of the state. This time a "big dog" got the blame for most of the raids on the livestock. But the tracks were described as cat-like, though not really like a mountain lion's tracks. Efforts to gain the cooperation of the officials on these sightings were unproductive. ■

Monster sightings in Alabama caves

By Peter and Paul Blechinger
as told to Norman Weis

There are many caves in Alabama and many are quite near Huntsville. The story begins when the farmers find that they've been losing cattle. In the last three years they estimated their losses to be over 150 head of cattle. Naturally they figured there were rustlers and enlisted the law along with their own group to find out where the cattle were going. THE RESULTS WERE FRIGHTENING.

The sheriff and deputies were called in and plans were made to apprehend the marauders. Watches were set in hopes that they would find out what was going on. No attempts were made to steal cattle in the daytime.... it was always at night. As time went by.... they caught a fleeting glimpse of the marauders who seemed to have no trouble in vaulting fences no matter how high. In the meantime, saucers or discs were seen many times and were seen to land on both hilltops and flat land. When investigators went to the area, nothing was ever found and no trace of landings could be noted. Our guess on this would be that there were underground installations involving elevators that lowered, surface ground with its bushes etc., included. When the saucer was lowered, the elevator with its surface camouflage was not noticeable.

To get back to the cattle rustling, finally the night guards were able to catch the culprits in the act of killing the cattle and shot at them. Much to the consternation of the guards, the bullets had no effect on these beings.

The beings were described as being about 4-feet tall and weighing about 400 lbs. They were endowed with great strength and their bodies were covered with hair...no clothes.

Their strength was so great that they were able to kill the cattle and drag them over the fences with no apparent trouble into their caves.

They were followed by the sheriff and deputies plus police dogs but did not go far into the caves, not knowing what they would be getting into. They shone their bright lights into the cave and could see the pairs of eyes of these beings staring at them from all areas.

There were many cattle carcasses on the cave floor and the stench was unbearable. It was felt that a strong light was the farmer's and sheriff's only protection as they entered the caves and that these beings were completely blinded by light and were able to come out only at night.

Their footprints were unusual...being only about eight inches long with toe marks, but the width was wider than would be expected with a big ball-like print... more like an animal.

Shades of the Abominable Snowman!!! We have had reports of strange beings in Tibet; the Sasquatch of Washington and Oregon areas; Bigfoot of Northern California; large hairy beings in the Brooksville, Florida area and Tamiami Trail; reports from Pennsylvania; from Presque Isle; and from many other parts of the world.

And this is where I will leave you with the fantastic story of the MONSTERS IN THE ALABAMA CAVES.

Perhaps I will be able to give you a sequel to this story to let you know what the final result was.

Will they now move out and leave Alabama?

Will the law devise some way to do away with these beings?

Will there be much violence?

Will there be resentment and repercussions? Only the future will tell.

NOTE: Both Peter and Paul are lecturers and researchers on UFOs and are now in the Armed Forces.

Within the limits stated by the title, this is the most comprehensive (nearly 400 items) and up-to-date (covers publications through mid-1971) work in the field. The main part of the checklist is an author index; this is followed by a title index. All entries are numbered - and there is a wealth of cross-references. These consist of: Related items, translators, alternate title of books, pen names, joint authors, etc.

The bibliography is so designed that you can find anything in a matter of seconds.

This is a limited edition. Saves countless hours of labor. One hundred pages. Only $3.00 per copy. Money orders only please.
